

SUBMISSION GUIDELINES

STUDIA ANTIQUA

A STUDENT JOURNAL FOR THE STUDY OF THE ANCIENT WORLD

Studia Antiqua follows the Society of Biblical Literature Handbook of Style (Peabody, MA: Hendrickson, 1999). Authors are encouraged to consult that volume for answers to questions not addressed in this document.

Studia Antiqua accepts electronic manuscript submissions year round. All manuscripts should be sent to studia_antiqua@yahoo.com. Manuscripts received prior to the last Monday in January will be considered for the spring issue, and those received before the last Monday in July will be considered for the fall issue. The author's name should not appear on the manuscript, but on a separate cover sheet. Manuscripts should be double-spaced, using 12 point font and 1¼ in. margins, including endnotes. Manuscripts should not exceed 7,000 words, or 26–28 pages. Scripture citations should appear in text, following sections 8.3.1–8.3.3 and 4.1.7 in the SBL Handbook of Style.

Authors should avoid the generic use of the terms “man,” “mankind,” “brotherhood,” etc.. Inclusive terms (“human being,” “humanity,” “humankind,” “people,” etc.) should instead be used to refer to individuals or groups.

Footnote numbers (in the footnotes, not the text) should not appear as superscripts, and they should be followed by a period. Except for journal titles, authors and works should not be abbreviated (e.g., “Hippolytus, The Apostolic Tradition,” and not “Hipp., Trad. ap.”).

Special care should be taken concerning the use of the hyphen, the “n” dash, and the “m” dash. Refer to section 3.1.1.5 in the SBL Handbook of Style.

Direct quotations of five lines or more will be printed as separate, indented paragraphs in a smaller font, and without opening or closing quotation marks. They should appear this way in the manuscript. Refer to section 4.1.7 in the SBL Handbook of Style.

Special materials (illustrations, charts, tables, etc.) should appear on individual pages separated from the main text, but their placement within the text should be clearly indicated (e.g., “insert illustration 1 here”).

Avoid overcapitalization (e.g., biblical, temple). Refer to Appendix A of the SBL Handbook of Style.

As a supplement to the SBL Handbook of Style, refer to the Chicago Manual of Style: 15th Edition (Chicago, University of Chicago Press, 2003). For spelling, Studia Antiqua follows Merriam-Webster's Collegiate Dictionary: Eleventh Edition (Springfield, MA: Merriam-Webster, 2003). When a word occurs with more than one spelling the first spelling listed should be used.
